

CARTOONIST'S IDEA OF ARMY TEST RIDE

SEVEN OFFICERS ON A TEST RIDE TODAY

Will Go to Mt. Vernon, Return and Do Day's Work at Desks for Next Two Days.

Seven officers stationed at the War Department, headed by Col. Henry O. S. Heintzeland, adjutant general, set forth at 7 o'clock this morning to ride to Mt. Vernon and back before the sun gets very far past the meridian. This afternoon each of them expects to put in a day's work at his respective desk.

This is the program outlined for three successive days. Heretofore the necessity of riding ninety miles in three days has been regarded as a trial. Officers have in many instances looked upon the tests with dislike, but they were forced to qualify.

Now seven of the alleged swivel chair warriors, representatives of that body of army men who have long drawn criticism, have set out to prove just how lightly the test rests upon them. They followed by the work of their respective offices with no days off. Consequently for three successive days they will pilgrimage to Mt. Vernon and back in the morning, and turn out a regular day's work in the afternoon.

At the end of the third day they must undergo medical examination to prove they are in good condition.

The seven men are Col. Henry O. S. Heintzeland, Col. Harry L. Rogers, Quartermaster Corps; Lieut. Col. Clint Hearn, Coast Artillery Corps; Major James Canby, Quartermaster Corps; Major William R. Smith, Coast Artillery Corps; Major Charles Crawford of the general staff, and Major Herbert A. White, judge advocate general.

The test ride for "swivel chair" warriors was conceived by Colonel Roosevelt, during his last term as President.

McAdoo Prepares to Aid in Crop Moving

Following the announcement of Secretary McAdoo that $24,000,000 of Government funds will be deposited soon in the banks of the West and South to aid in crop moving, Treasury officials today began to arrange for the distribution of this fund in the banks of the thirty-one cities in twenty States which have made application.

The same plan adopted last year of depositing interest at the rate of 2 per cent per annum on the deposits has been followed by the Treasury Department this year. But Secretary McAdoo announces that he will not require, as he did last year, that 10 per cent of the deposits shall be secured by Government bonds. Government bonds, municipal, railroad, and other securities will be accepted by the Treasury.

Secretary McAdoo, in announcing his decision to aid crop marketing again this year, explained that the step had been taken after replies had been received from circulars sent to 5,000 national banks, the general tenor of which indicated that an unusual demand for money was expected this fall, and that the depositing of Government funds in the leading cities in the crop belts would be of great benefit to the crop movement and to business generally.

Replies of most of the big bankers of the East indicated that no crop-moving funds will be needed in New England and the Eastern States. Some of the States of the West and Northwest also declared that they would be able to finance their own crop movements. Among these States were Ohio, Indiana, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Oregon, California, Washington, and Utah.

Cities in these States, however, asked for crop-moving funds last year, and Secretary McAdoo announced that if it would develop later that they need funds, their applications will be considered.

The replies of the bankers' Secretary McAdoo declared, fully confirm the optimistic bulletin of the Department of Agriculture as to prospects for unusually large crops. They also indicate a decided promise of greatly improved business conditions and enlarged business activities throughout the country.

Congressmen Ask Nobel Prize for Bartholdt

Congressman Richard Bartholdt of Missouri may be given the Nobel Prize for 1914, by the Nobel Committee of the Norwegian parliament this fall, a memorial signed by 318 members of the House, and addressed to the committee, states that what Mr. Bartholdt has achieved in the interest of peace has been as an American legislator through the instrumentality of the parliamentary union.

In Congress his leadership in this cause is recognized by all, concludes the memorial, and the name of no public man in the United States is more closely identified with the peace movement than his.

Congressman Bartholdt has announced that he will not seek re-election, and will devote the rest of his life to the interest of peace and literary work. He expects to sail tomorrow from New York for Stockholm, Sweden, to attend the annual gathering of the parliamentary union.

RESINOL CURES A PIMPLY SKIN

Bridgeport, Conn., June 1, 1914: "I suffered from pimples on my face for about four years, which I thought I could never cure. As I tried to heal them with various prescriptions, and many other things, but they only got thicker. They looked like small boils and were very sore after a while and scales formed on my face. They itched awfully. I tried Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap, and I have no more pimples on my face—my skin is now clear. I was so glad that I at last found a cure for my pimples as my face looked a sight." (Signed) Miss Bertha M. Turley, 1161 Franklin Ave.

Prescribed by doctors for 19 years, sold by all druggists—Resinol Ointment, 50c and 1c. Resinol Soap, 25c. For trial free, write to Dept. 24-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.—Advt.

Permanent Road Unknown Says Logan Waller Page

Logan Waller Page, director of the office of public roads, Department of Agriculture, today voiced his disapproval at the use of the word "permanent" in connection with road building.

The general impression that there are certain types of roads that are permanent is erroneous, Director Page said. "No permanent road has ever been constructed or ever will be. The only things about a road that may be considered permanent are the grading, culverts, and bridges."

"Roads constructed by the most skillful highway engineers will soon be destroyed by the traffic, frost, rain, and wind, unless they are properly maintained. But the life of these roads may be prolonged by systematic maintenance."

"A poor road will not only be improved by proper maintenance, but

May become better in time than a good road without it."

Director Page urged road builders to avail themselves of publications of his office showing the best methods of road maintenance and repair.

All Eyes Turn to Maine Election for 1916 Forecast

The eyes of all the politicians from this time on will be glued on the campaign in Maine. The election there is September 14. It is a tradition that as Maine goes in September, so the country goes in November.

Republicans expect to win a sweeping victory in the Pine Tree State. The tariff issue, the tolls question, and general dissatisfaction with the Democratic regime, it is predicted by the Republicans, will materialize in a big majority against the party in power. They expect to elect at least three and perhaps all four of the members of Congress.

Drag Potomac for Body Of Raymond Barskey

Police today are dragging the Potomac river near Chain bridge for the body of Raymond Barskey, fifteen, 1425 Fifth street northwest, who was drowned while swimming late yesterday afternoon. Several other boys who were swimming nearby were powerless to lend assistance.

Joseph Smith, lifeguard at the Tidal Basin, last night saved from drowning Henry C. Spengler, nineteen, of 124 Euclid street northwest. Spengler was seized with cramps. At Emergency Hospital doctors used the pulmotor for nearly two hours before he was resuscitated.

U. S. Army and Navy To Observe War Tactics

In event of a European war representatives of the army and navy of the United States will be on the scene to observe the movements of troops and study the tactics pursued by the combatants.

Rear Admiral Flske would not deny today that plans had been discussed for the sending of warships to the vicinity of possible naval activities, and said that this procedure was usual.

Adjutant General George Andrews declared that in event of a serious conflict it is more than likely that representatives of the different branches of the service to observe conditions may be of interest and benefit to their respective departments.

"It may be all a flare up," said Major General Winterspoon, chief of staff, speaking of the situation, "although the situation is rather precarious and bodies ill for a peaceable settlement. The number of troops that would be drawn into action would be a tremendous army, as the number available is estimated at about 8,000,000 on each side."

Nevada Women Opposed To Suffrage in State

Protest against encouragement being given the "votes for women" propaganda in Nevada will be made to President Wilson today by the Nevada Association of Women Opposed to Equal Suffrage. This action by the Nevada women means that the fight against suffrage in the five Western States which at the present time is at its height will be carried to the White House by the opposition.

'Use Borax' New Slogan in Fight Against Flies

The use of borax in killing maggots from which the deadly typhoid fly develops is expected eventually to rid the District of the pest, if owners of horses will see that stable deposits are thoroughly treated with the preventive.

The Department of Agriculture's experiments at the Arlington farm have established the fact that borax will prevent fly eggs from hatching, if it is properly sprinkled around the outer edges of manure and excreta in stables. The department officials say that a comparatively small quantity of the borax sprinkled on garbage, refuse, or other foul matter will effectively stop the development of fly eggs and maggots. It is impossible for the Department of Agriculture and the District Health Department to make great strides in the campaign against the fly unless co-operation is forthcoming from citizens of the District.
